Here are some infos regarding that:

Silver is an excellent metal for mental, emotional and physical releasing and cleansing.

It encourages balance and grounding. Like the moons energy, it has a gentle, cool, smoothing effect, acting to benefit the physical body by reducing fever, inflammation and nervous system stress.

Garnet

Garnet is a powerful energizing and regenerating stone. This stone fortifies, activates and strengthens the survival instinct. Which then gives you courage and hope in what appears to be a hopeless situation. It sharpens your perception of yourself and other people. It dissolves ingrained behavior patterns that are no longer serving your needs. Garnet will remove inhibitions and taboos that have been laid down by others rather than yourself. It opens the heart and bestows self confidence.
